

AUREA

INDEX

At Aurea, we evoke emotional responses. We believe that furniture is so much more than functional items to merely fill your space with; but rather a distinct reflection of all the characteristics that make you who you are. Each and every piece produced offers a perfect balance of texture, design, functionality and individuality. When it comes to how we create, we go back to our Ancient Egyptian roots and draw inspiration from The Divine Proportion. Dating back to the time of the Pharaohs, The Divine Proportion was a symbol of geometric perfection throughout history.

In Renaissance Florence, The Divine Proportion was used by some of the greatest artists of all time. Its use has been passed down through time up until today, where Italian designers still sink their sensibility into it. And thus, beauty is created in various forms. It is from the concept of The Divine Proportion (or The Golden Ratio), that the creations of our brand take inspiration and are brought to life with a touch of Italian taste.

Aurea is all about style. Catering to a high-end market, this style must reflect an immediately perceptible value of materials and product design, yet manage to do so in a most subtle and sophisticated manner.

Those who choose Aurea know the trends, acknowledge the trends, they are the trends.

By using the best materials and the most sought after finishes, we create details that convey the expert care out into crafting each piece. Essentially, it's not about what we do, but why and how we do it. Each and every piece that is designed and crafted at Aurea is a beautiful form of expression.

MEET THE DESIGNERS

It all started in 2001, when architect Maurizio Manzoni decided to take his professional career to new heights... and the result was StudioMEMO.

With a desire to offer new solutions for contemporary living and change people's perception towards contemporary products, Manzoni developed a new way of design. His creative process combines Italian influences with meticulous research, resulting in exciting and unique designs.

From then on, StudioMEMO quickly rose to success, resulting in partnerships with leading companies in the sector.

A multidisciplinary skill-set made it possible for the studio to develop 360° projects - from concept to visual communication - with explorations that include architecture, industrial design, furniture, fittings, as well as visual communication, fashion and graphics.

StudioMEMO continues to grow thanks to ongoing research and collaborations between professionals in the sector with different skill-sets and backgrounds.

The studio makes use of prototype engineers and highprofile technical consultants who allow each project to be developed, and leave no problem unsolved.

The overall professional environment underlines the importance of a constructive and sincere dialogue between internal collaborators and numerous external collaborators.

Based on this, StudioMEMO is able to successfully deal with any type of design requirement.

Since the studio's establishment, designer Federico Visani also joined Manzoni in his vision and has since contributed immensely to all aspects of the development of various projects. Designer Federica Francini later joined the team as a key player, further expanding the various specializations and skills of the studio.

Essentially, StudioMEMO offers experience with artistic direction that aims to constantly explore new markets and brand positioning. With more and more corporate companies looking to diversify their market, the studio continuously offers distinct and innovative contemporary design solutions.
